

131 Have you heard the Master calling?

Poet unknown

W Warren Bentley, 19th cent.

$\bullet = 68$

1. Have you heard the Mas - ter call - ing: "Who will
2. Should you not com - pare in serv - ing with God's
3. Let your words be filled with fer - vour born of 4. Now en - list in this en - deav - our, vow your go and work to - day? Fields are white and har - vest serv - ants of to - day, you can still bring to the the a - pos - to - late. Tell how you re - ceived God's ver - y best to do while the souls of men are wait - ing, who will bear the sheaves a - way?" All who Mas - ter souls who may have gone a - stray. If you Spir - it and your life did ded - i - cate. Should your dy - ing and the Mas - ter calls for you! Give your - heed the Mas - ter's call - ing, a re - ward in have not great pos - ses - sions, you can serve in neigh - bour then not heark - en, fail - ing truth - ful self to Him com - plete - ly, go - ing forth with heav'n shall see. Who will an - swer, glad - ly hum - ble ways, for what - e'er you do for ness to face, do your best the soul to bless - ings shared. Give your word with deep con - say - ing: "Here am I, O Lord, send me!" Je - sus will bring bless - ings all your days.

 res - cue, lead - ing him to truth and grace.
 vic - tion: "Send me, Lord, I am pre - pared!"