

299 Open now your gates of beauty

Benjamin Schmolck (1672-1737)

Composer unknown

$\text{♩} = 76$

1. O - pen now your gates of beau - ty. Zi - on, let me
2. Yes, my God, I come be - fore You; come now al - so 3. Speak, O God, and I will hear You; let Your will be 4. Lord, my faith in - crease and quick - en, let me keep Your en - ter there, where my soul in joy - ful du - ty down to me. Where we find You and a - dore You, done in - deed. May I un - dis - turbed draw near You gift di - vine. When temp - ta - tions round me thick - en, waits for Him who an - swers prayer. O how bless - ed there a heav'n on earth must be. Let my heart in while You here Your peo - ple feed. Here the fount of may Your word still o'er me shine as a pole - star is this place, filled with sol - ace, light and grace! meek - ness bow; let it be Your tem - ple now.

life does flow, here is balm for all our woe.
thro' my life, as my com - fort in all strife.