

480 Earthly pleasures are but fleeting

Poet unknown

Composer unknown

$\text{♩} = 68$

1. Earth - ly pleas - ures are but fleet - ing, quick - ly pass - ing
2. Man - y joys, but al - so sor - row, brought the pass - ing
3. Now with dark - ness still en - shroud - ed is the dawn - ing

by; but, by Je - sus' word re - ceiv - ing,
year; yet the foe could us not har - row,
year. Filled with faith, we're not dis - cour - aged;

Glad - ly let us
last - ing joy draws nigh. Refrain
for God's grace was near. Glad - ly, glad - ly God is ev - er near.

fol - low, all one heart and soul.
let us fol - low, all one, all one heart and soul.
all one heart and soul, and soul.
all one heart and soul.

As the fading year is passing, once more we'll strive toward the goal... Yes, as the fading year is passing, once more we'll strive toward the goal.