How do you see God's story as part of your own story?

Create It! - Water to Hot Cocoa

Jesus did an amazing miracle when He was at a wedding and turned water to wine. He gave a great gift to those who were at the wedding, and He revealed His glory to His followers. They began to see that He is like no one else because He is God!

Spend some time turning water to hot cocoa together. Either use a packaged mix or find a simple recipe online (combining cocoa powder, sugar, water/milk, salt) to make homemade hot cocoa. As you make hot cocoa together, talk about something amazing Jesus has done in your family. Or consider inviting some friends over to have hot cocoa with you, and tell them about Jesus revealing His glory—His amazingness and majesty—in John 2!

Family Conversations

Families, use this to prompt conversations at the table, in the car, and anywhere else your family experiences life together.

What do you think it would be like to celebrate with Jesus? • What are some ways we see Jesus' glory—His amazingness—in our everyday lives? • What is something amazing God has done in our family? • How can we share Jesus' amazingness with others?

Hands On - Brain Power

Jesus turned water to wine, revealing that He is amazing! Along with another family member, do a trick that will amaze those who watch! One person is the magician and the other the assistant.

The magician will leave the room, out of earshot. The assistant will gather the rest of the family, and together they will choose one item in the room that the magician will try to identify.

The magician will return, and the assistant will point to different items, asking the magician if each is the item the audience chose. The magician will contemplate each item before saying, "No."

Immediately before the assistant asks about the item the group has chosen, she will point to a black item. For example, she'll ask, "Is it this black remote control?" The magician will say, "No," but the black item will be the secret hint that the next item will be the item chosen. The assistant will then ask about the actual item and the magician will say, "Yes," amazing everyone! Do it a few times before revealing the trick!
